GOSSIP OF THE CAPITOL.

WHISPERINGS IN AND ABOUT THE LOBBIES OF CONGRESS.

Visitors Attracted by the World's Pair Debate—Guides Reap a Rich Har-vest—Labor Agliator Carsey and His Scheme—Artistic Conceptions.

The lobbles in the Capitol have overflowed with visitors and people bent on business during the past week. The guides have reaped a rich harvest "Jake" Kennedy is talking of buying a residence at Atlantic City next summer if lusiness continues as good, and the faces of the other guides have been beaming with anticipation of eating pound cake for the rest of the year. The Congressmen themselves have been unusually active, which was caused principally by the World's Fair agita flow, and at no time since the session opened have the galleries been jammed with such motley crowds of people from everywhere as they were during the week just past.

Among the many men on business around the lobbles in the neighborhood of the House was noticed the "Lone Star" labor agitator, William A. A. Carecy, "Bill" Carecy, as every labor man in New York is used to calling him, is one of the hidden mysteries. It is a well-known fact that no labor organization will have anything to do with him, yet he is back and forth from New York to Washington every few days with something new on hand. Just a week ago "Bill" was in the lob-Just a week ago "Bai" was in the lob-bies as a representative delegate from the American Workingmen's Protective Tariff League, claiming to represent 5,600 workingmen in New York, who were anxious to have the Farquhar Subsidy bill pass the House. After he spouted for the welfare of the laboring people, which would be promoted by the passage of this bill, he went home, yesterday be came down with a rush yesterday be came down with a rush as chairman of the executive committee of the Anti-Monopoly League, and appeared before the House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads in opposition to the Wanamaker Postal Telegraph bill, and said he rep-resented the workingmen of the coun-try. It was rumored that Mr. Carsey has a move on foot with George D. Lennon and John W. Keogh of New York to revive the old Union Labor party and come down to Washington as representative from that body next week and oppose something else.

"Tom" Coakley, the always genial leader of the messengers on the House side, can take a joke about as gracefully as any man in the lobbies, but when a complete stranger approaches him un-awares and slaps him on the back so hard that his teeth chatter and takes bim for an old-time friend, he draws

This is what occurred to him yestercay. He was standing near the main entrance to the House in the afternoon with a cigar in his mouth and a smile on his face, when a muscular man came up behind him and brought his hand ing whack, that made the bones bend,

"Why, 'Tom,' when did you get in. Shake, old fellow; I'm delighted—yes. awful pleased to see you; shake!"
"Tom" shook, but it was with pain. His brow clouded, and he looked mad

"My friend, you're going it a little strong, don't you think so? My name's "Tom," but you've got 'a horse on me."

I den't know you."

"What! Den't know me? Me:
Now, 'Tom,' old fellow, don't say that you don't know your old friend, 'Jim'
Wilkins. Den't go back on your old friends because you have got to be Commissioner of the Department of Public Works in New York City. I heard you were in the city, and hunted you

"Tom" Conkley grasped the situa-tion, and admitted that he did bear a striking resemblance to Thomas F. Gil-roy of New York, but never knew the resemblance was so strong before.

Captain McKey, who holds sway over the document room, has always got his eyes open for improvement. During the past week he has had the local reporters and correspondents in his mind. He has had constructed a number of pigeon holes just on the outside of his office where he throws everything which he thinks of importance to the press, so that each representative of a newspaper can go to the pigeon hole awarded his paper and get whatever news the Captain has to give out with-

Judging from what may be seen in the retundant the Capitol, artists have varied conceptions of how the original John Smith's life was saved by Poca-hontas. One-group in a niche over a door pictures John Smith with his head on a stone, with a bold brave with up-lifted club in the act of beating his brains out, while the brave Indian girl is just about to throw herself between is just about to throw herself between Jehn and the club. The artist who en-circled the rotunda above the doors with frescoed groups has a different conception of this almost a tragedy altogether. He has John kneeling, while the noble red man grasps his hair and bends John's body backward until his tongue lolls out, and a club is raised in the right hand of the Indian. Pocahontas is apparently making a running jump for the club.

It is not generally known and was discovered only by accident, and is a fact, that there is one Congressman who wears a celluloid shirt front. Whether it is because his expenses are so heavy and he wears it as a matter of economy or it is more convenient than linen shirts, is a matter that rests entirely Congressman Blount of Georgia said he is the third oldest member in Con-gress, and has spent thirty five years of his life within the walls of the House. He said he is getting tired of it and wants to remain at home hereafter among the old red hills of his State.

One of the brightest little members in Congress is J. E. Washington of Nash-ville, Tenn. He is one of the youngest members in age, but can comprehend more sound common sense in one sen-tence than most of his conferrees who have spent years in the House of Representatives. He is a man small of stature, with a wiry frame, plercing blue eyes and blonde mustache, and would be taken for anything but a Congreasman on the street.

IN A FEW MINUTES

Peter Jackson, the Colored Pugilist.

Floors Gypsy Guy.

Gypsy Guy, a big 220-pound man, tried last night to stand before Peter Jackson for four rounds. His attempt was a signal failure, but it furnished more amusement for the two thousand or more spectators present than any event ever witnessed in Kernan's Thea tre The gypsy, who, it is said, is called Peter by his associates, is not only a big man, but also a fat man. With all his fiesh, however, he might have won, but for his evident intention of knocking the negro out in one round.

He went at Jackson with all the fury possible, and for the first round he hit the big pugilist so frequently and so hard that it evidently surprised him. In the second round, however, Jackson started in to finish Mr. Guy. He struck him several savage blows about the face and body and then knocked him down with a swinging right hander. That settled the difficulty. Gny had had enough. He could not or would not get up again and Jackson was declared the winner. The match lasted but 41 minutes.

CORNELL MEN DINE.

A Large Gathering at the Langham of Alumni and Guests.

The Cornell University Alumni As ociation held its seventh annual din ner last night at the Langham, and over forty Cornellians and guests sat down to the table. After disposing of the dinner Mr. H. W. Spotford assumed the duties of toast-master and called upon M. D. H. Decker, the president of the association, to respond. Mr. Decker reported the association to be in a prosperous condition, and read letters from President C. K. Adams and ex-President Andrew D. White of Cornell regretting that they could not be present. Other speeches were made by Professor Gilbert of the Geological Survey, Pro-fessor D. E. Salmon, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Agri-cultural Department; Miss Eva M. Pitts, L. O. Howard and D. E. Coville. Among those present were T. P. and J. McKee Borden, Theobald Smith, Henry W. Turner, A. T. Cowell, J. P. Chapman, Professor C. V. without health?
Keep your feet dry, but do not wear overshoes all the time.
Remember that the pores of your skin, when in health, are always open, and that closing them causes stokness.
Dress warmly, but not heavily. Woolen clothing that permits the exhalations of the body to escape is the best.
Eat strengthening and hearty, but not too much greasy food. It is a mistake to suppose that fat food contains the most vitality.

vitality.

If you feel chilly at any time take a drink of pure whisky at once. Duffy's Pure Malt is the purest and best, and has the highest recommendations.

Do not call the doctor for every slight allment. If you have a cold, feel depressed, and lack appetite and vigor, you need something to tone and build up the system. Nothing will do this so readily as the pure article we have mentioned.

The Flack Divorce Case.
